BASIL PURPLE RUFFLES

Ocimum Basilicum

This variety has glossy, ruffled, jagged glossy purple leaves.

Sometimes the leaves will have splashes on green at the end.

Leaves are very aromatic; the scent and flavour is slightly different than a sweet basil.

When growing purple ruffles it is recommended to be grown in winter.

If sown in warm conditions it will become green with purple spots, when grown in cooler nights it will remain dark purple.

Germination is usually between 2–3 weeks. - Keep soil moist during germination.

Approx. 650 seeds per gram.
